Tatung Company of America, Inc.

EXHIBIT A
DEPOSITION SUBJECT MATTERS

I. Definitions

1. “Tatung” means Defendants Tatung Company and Tatung Company of America and includes any and all of its predecessors and successors-in-interest, any and all parents, subsidiaries, divisions, affiliates and affiliated entities as well as the respective officers, directors, agents, employees, attorneys, accountants, consultants and representatives of the foregoing.

2. “LPL” means Plaintiff LG. Philips LCD Co., Ltd. and includes any and all of its predecessors and successors-in-interest in its business, any and all parents, subsidiaries, divisions, affiliates and affiliated entities as well as the respective officers, directors, agents, employees, attorneys, accountants, consultants and representatives of the foregoing.

3. “You,” “Yours,” and “Your” means LPL.

4. The “‘718 patent” shall mean and refer to United States Patent No. 6,498,718.

5. The “‘641 patent” shall mean and refer to United States Patent No. 6,501,641.

6. The term “Asserted Patents” shall mean and refer to the ‘718 Patent and the ‘641 Patent, or any of them.

7. The term “Counterpart,” when used in reference to any patent, means any parent, continuation, continuation in part, divisional or other application or patent, pending, issued or abandoned, that claims priority, directly or indirectly, on or through any of the Asserted Patents or any patent through which any of the Asserted Patents claim priority, whether it be pending, issued or abandoned.

8. The singular of a term includes the plural form and vice versa, except as the context may otherwise require; the words “and” and “or” shall be construed as either conjunctive or disjunctive in such manner as will broaden as widely as possible the scope of any request for production; the word “any” means “any and all;” the word “including” means “including without limitation.”

9. The term “document” is used in its customarily broad sense pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 26 and 34 and Federal Rules of Evidence 1001 and includes, without limitation, the following items, whether handwritten, printed, recorded, filmed or produced by any other mechanical, digital, or electronic process, including electronic mail, computer tapes, disks, ROM, CD-ROM, DVD, videotape or any other data storage media (whether or not in machine-readable form), whether or not asserted to be privileged or immune from discovery and whether master or original copy: agreements; communications (including intra-company communications and communications between individual corporate respondents); correspondence; cablegrams, radiograms, telegrams, telexes, and telecopier; notes and memoranda, summaries and minutes of conferences; summaries and records of personal conversations or interviews; books, manuals, publications, brochures and diaries; time logs, daily planners, and log books; laboratory and engineering reports and notebooks; specifications or bills of materials; charts; plans; sketches; diagrams and drawings; blueprints and other engineering drawings; foils; slides; negatives; promotional proposals; photographs; reports and/or summaries of investigations; opinions and reports of consultants; patents, design registrations, and applications for any of them; patent appraisals and patentability or validity searches and studies; opinions of counsel; sales records, including purchase orders and invoices; reports and summaries of negotiations; pamphlets; catalogs and catalog sheets; advertisements; circulars; trade letters; press, publicity, trade and product releases; drafts of, or original, preliminary notes or marginal notations appearing on any document; other reports and records; computer tapes or cards, electronic mail and any other information-containing paper or medium. A draft or non-identical copy is a separate document within the meaning of this term.

10. “Things” means any tangible item, including, without limitation, models, prototypes and samples of any device or apparatus.

11. “Relate to” shall mean anything that constitutes, contains, embodies, reflects, identifies, states, refers to, deals with, or is in any manner whatsoever pertinent to that subject.

12. “Patent Holder” shall mean any inventor, licensee and all assignees of the rights of any invention in any of the Asserted Patents and/or any Counterpart thereof.

13. “Communication” shall mean any transfer of information, ideas, opinions, or thoughts by any means, written, oral, electronic, or otherwise, at any time or place under any circumstances.

14. The term “prior art” shall have the same meaning as “prior art” used in 35 U.S.C. § 103, and shall also include all of the events set forth in each and every subdivision of 35 U.S.C. § 102, including, without limitation, prior knowledge, prior publication, prior patenting, prior invention, public use, offer for sale and sale.

15. “Flat Panel Display Products” shall mean any product that uses, contains, or incorporates one or more LCDs, PDPs or FEDs, and includes by way of example flat screen computer monitors, lap top screens and flat screen televisions.

16. The term “LCD” shall mean any display which uses liquid crystals to form or create an image (regardless of the technology, e.g. active vs. passive matrix; MVA; IPS; TN, etc.). The terms “PDP” and “FED” shall be interpreted as the terms PDP and FED are used in the specifications of the Asserted Patents and/or any Counterpart thereof.

17. “LPL Product” shall mean any product marketed, sold, distributed and/or offered for sale which includes an LCD, PDP and/or FED and includes, without limitation, products referred to by LPL in its press release dated July 11, 2006 entitled “LG Philips LCD Reports Second Quarter Results” and/or the LPL press release dated July 25, 2006 entitled “LG Philips Wins Side-Mounting Patent Arbitration” and/or the depiction attached as Exhibit 1 hereto, each of which are or were posted on the LPL website and including any sample, prototype or developmental version of any of the foregoing.

18. “Mounting Technology” shall mean the structures, devices and/or methods used to affix, assemble or secure an LCD, PDP, FED and/or an LPL Product within, on or to another structure including, without limitation, a Flat Panel Display Product.

19. “Accused Products” shall mean any product, including without limitation, all products sold, offered for sale, imported, used, or made, by or on behalf of, any defendant which LPL asserts infringes or may infringe any of the Asserted Patents or any Counterpart thereof and also including those products identified by LPL in response to Tatung’s Interrogatory No. 1.

20. The terms “concern” and “concerning” are used in their broadest sense and embrace all matter relating to, referring to, pertaining to, describing, evidencing, constituting, comprising, supporting, refuting or contradicting the referenced subject.

21. Regardless of the tense employed, all verbs shall be read as applying to past, present and future as is necessary to make the phrase more, rather than less inclusive.

TOPICS FOR EXAMINATION

a. Any damages sustained by LPL as a result of the infringement of the Asserted Patents and/or any Counterpart thereof and/or any patent you own or license regarding Mounting Technology by any entity, including any contentions, positions, or assertions of price erosion, lost profits, reasonable royalty, established royalty and/or lost sales, and/or any other basis for compensation under 35 U.S.C. § 284;

b. All actions you have taken to sell, distribute, market, promote, advertise the inventions disclosed and/or claimed in the Asserted Patents or any Counterpart thereof, including the promotional, marketing, sales and advertising activities with respect to any LCD, PDP, FED, LPL Products and/or Flat Panel Display Product using, arranged to use, capable of employing and/or embodying any invention disclosed and/or claimed in such patents;

c. All actions you have taken to sell, distribute, market, promote, advertise the inventions disclosed and/or claimed in any patent you hold, claim to hold and/or license which relates to Mounting Technology, including the promotional, marketing, sales and advertising activities with respect to any LCD, PDP, FED, LPL Product and/or Flat Panel Display Product using, arranged to use, capable of employing and/or embodying any invention disclosed and/or claimed in such patents other than the Asserted Patents and any Counterparts thereof;

d. All efforts you have made to promote, market, and/or advertise:
(i) your company, including any parents, subsidiaries and affiliates thereof;
